

FIRST BASE SOLUTIONS
CHANGING VIEWS TO GET A BETTER PERSPECTIVE

REDUCE TIME AND COST OF RESEARCH

Online research; you do it everyday and so do your clients, so why is your website just your name and phone number?

First Base Solutions (FBS) is a provider of high end mapping and technology products that can transform the way you do research, manage documents, and interact with your clients.

CHALLENGE

Firstly, setting your firm apart from the competition and making yourself easy to find online for potential clients - that's where most business begins these days. Secondly, getting the most of the information resources available online so you can manage your time effectively and focus on maximizing rewards, settling cases, and satisfying clients.

SOLUTION

FBS is not only an experienced web developer, but also a geospatial data provider to Google, and is qualified to develop custom tools on top of the familiar Google Maps API that can solve pain points specific to your business needs. Legal issues involving real estate transactions, boundary or right of way disputes, environmental quality, or accident scene reconstructions have an inherently geographic component to them and are therefore best described using visual details of imagery and maps.

Our solutions are built on Google Maps to provide a convenient means to organize your spatial data and related documents internally, let the world know where you are online, research and analyze historical site conditions, and prepare visual exhibits. FBS can also incorporate our own high resolution aerial imagery into your custom solution, plus digital elevation models, Teranet property boundaries, regulatory flood lines, and a variety of reliable spatial data to help document your case.

REDUCE TIME AND COST OF RESEARCH

FEATURES

- Access current and historical high resolution date stamped aerial imagery.
- Familiar technology with little need for training or database management.
- Tools to measure, draw and annotate features on the ground from aerial photo.
- Create, share, and access files and information from anywhere.

BENEFITS

- Cross reference and manage related documents with geographic locations.
- Track and analyze how the public interacts with your website.
- Direct advertising resources towards qualified local clients.
- Research geographic sites including property boundaries, legal descriptions, and much more.

CONCLUSIONS

It's no secret that the legal system relies heavily on paper documents far more than most industries these days. While this trend is changing slowly, the head of the pack is where you really want to be. FBS can get you there. We can update your existing public web presence with an emphasis on back end research and document management tools to help you and your staff just be more productive with your time. Call us today to get the ball rolling.
